

Walnuts, nice Walnuts; ten a Penny fine cracking Walnuts.

WHEN Autumn comes
ter fable, Walnuts often grace the table,
And after dinner relish fine Immerged in a glass of wine Or, in the evening still they (When merry tales and round)
A pretty picking for the La And hence so good the trade is,
That she, contented, near an Still shoves along her Walnuts